

Marina Lowe

Marina Lowe is the legislative and policy counsel for the ACLU of Utah. Before joining the ACLU in 2007, Marina worked with the Salt Lake Legal Defenders Association, in the Appellate Division defending the constitutional rights of indigent clients. Prior to that, Marina was an associate at the international law firm of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius, LLP in San Francisco, concentrating on commercial litigation, as well as intellectual property counseling and litigation. Marina grew up in Northern California and before graduating from the University of California, Hastings College of the Law spent two years working in marketing at Hewlett-Packard in Grenoble, France.
